

PRINTING GUIDE

The Vision consists of more than 1100 cards and 91 pages to print. This short guide will help you to print them out correctly.

CORRECT PAGE SIZES:

A single Adventure card should have a size of 4,1 cm x 6,4 cm, and the page with 18 adventure cards should have a size of 24,6 cm x 19,2 cm.

A single character or Alternative Ending card should have a size of 12,7 cm x 10,2 cm, and the page with 4 cards should have a size of 25,4 cm x 20,4 cm.

HOW MANY PAGES?

Some pages have to be printed out more than once. Each page has a number in brackets showing how many times it has to be printed out - for example (x3).

JOINING CARD FRONTS AND BACKS

It is best to put the front and the back of the card into a single card sleeve, or print them on two sides of a thick paper. Do not use glue, as it will usually deform the cards and affect the colors.

IMPORTANT!

When printing out the cards, print out the Instruction too - it will make things much clearer.

Single cards from The Vision may not function properly when used separately from the rest of the expansion. It is recommended to print out and use all the cards. For example using the Mission cards without the new, rebalanced characters will not work at all!

PROTECTING THE CARDS

Adventure cards: the best card sleeves are sizes 41x63 mm (with yellow label) produced by Fantasy Flight Supply.

Character cards, Alternative Endings and Inventory screen: These cards will be used a lot, so they need to be well protected.

I recommend laminating them on A4 laminate, and cutting the laminate off with a 3-4 mm reserve on each side.

Laminated cards are indestructible, what will be invaluable during particularly exciting games.

A LAMINATED DWARF HAS BECOME IMPERVIOUS TO BEER.